FOOD SUPPLEMENTS

Dr.Samuel Thomson was an 18th-century herbalist and botanist known for his curiosity about the mysterious secrets of plants and his dedication to human health. For many years, he researched the astonishing effects of plants and natural resources on the human body. During all this time, he developed unique formulations with the knowledge he gained from nature, laying the foundations of alternative medicine.

Dr. Thomson's story was based on the desire to turn the unique balance of health and nature into a brand. The vision born centuries ago and the solutions that harmonized with the healing powers gifted to us by nature were designed for people to have a healthy life. The Dr. Thomson food supplement range offers unique formulations inspired by nature using natural ingredients.

Dr. Thomson's heritage merges with next-generation solutions and comes to life in the "Dr.Thomson" brand, which encourages humans to live in harmony with nature. Each product is guided by science and combined with nature's specially selected, wondrous ingredients to ensure humans live a healthy life.
