PRODUCTION PROCESS

We follow the most advanced forms of traditional cold press crushing and extraction process. Production process starts straight after the olives harvested not only to keep the nutrient values as high as possible but at the same time to make it accessible for the consumer with its most natural and wholesome form. Following the extraction process, we hold rigorous laboratory checks to make sure that the chemical contents of the olive oil meet the international standards set up by the governing bodies of farming and food industries. We have a storage capacity of 2 million liters and production capability of 15 million liters per annum.
